

THE RECEIPTS, NOT THE PITCH

Three numbers I'd rather show you than a slide deck.

$1M+

qualified pipeline from one outbound system

+45%

feature adoption on an enterprise GenAI product

<30 days

median ship cycle across 5+ live AI products

all three are live – stress-test them on the call

OUTBOUND ENGINE • US CONSULTANCY

48,000

cold emails / month

4%+ reply rate. $1M+ pipeline. A 4-SDR team replaced at roughly a tenth of the cost.

ENTERPRISE GENAI / RAG • IN PRODUCTION

Same product. Six weeks later.

BEFORE

- slow p95 responses
- features nobody opened
- one LLM, one bill

AFTER

- ✓ -55% p95 latency
- ✓ +45% feature adoption
- ✓ multi-LLM routing + eval harness

the latency win was prompt-cache hits, not a bigger model

BEFORE YOU POST THAT JOB

Senior AI hire vs. ProdCraft.

FULL-TIME HIRE

- 3–6 months to start
- salary + equity + ramp
- one person's stack

PRODCRAFT

- ✓ first commit this week
- ✓ walk-away terms
- ✓ 12+ AI systems shipped

I'm not against hiring — I'm against waiting

ENGINEERING THAT SURVIVES MONDAY

Boring plumbing is the product.

sentinel: idempotent per-lead keys

dedup: cross-run, cross-campaign kill-switch: per campaign, one flag reply-detect: dual path (webhook + poll)

status: 48k/mo, 0 duplicate sends this is why the pipeline number is real
